

The Farm Talks

Sustainable Berry Production in the Adirondacks

Laura McDermott, Specialist Cornell
Cooperative Extension Eastern NY
Commercial Horticulture Program

Thank You!

Thanks to your interest and support over the past six years, The Farm Talks is still going strong! This series was created to spread local knowledge of small farming practices to our communities and landowners. We look forward to continuing this successful program.

The next "Talk" featuring
Laura McDermott will be held
January 18, 2019 6:00pm-8:00pm
@

The NYSDEC Warrensburg Office
232 Golf Course Road,
Warrensburg, NY 12885

Seating is Limited so Please RSVP to
Nick Rowell by 01/15/19
Phone: (518) 623-3119 or
nrowell123@nycap.rr.com

Laura will be discussing the sustainable approaches to growing and managing blueberries, brambles (raspberries & blackberries), honeyberries and Juneberries.

We hope to see you there for fun and informative presentations.

www.warrenswcd.org

Light refreshments will be provided.

Ask us about our AEM Program!

